Advertise in the souvenir

The Organising Committee of 21st All India Homoeopathic Scientific Seminar invites the industry to join hands in making this event memorable.

The Seminar has already attracted attention across the country with more than 1000 confirmed delegates, who include practitioners, academicians, and students. This offers a rich source of marketing optics for the Homoeopathic industry to reach out to such a large volume of Homoeopathic professionals.

This is also a largely untapped potential for the general FMCG, white goods, finance, fashion, and lifestyle industry to foray. The Homoeopathic professionals are cast in the mould of a family physician, and their counsel is still valued beyond the healthcare service and into a lifestyle choice. This can be leveraged as a soft marketing clout by the marketing and service industry.

The Seminar and Souvenir offer a relatively economical route to reach newer horizons of the market.
